SUMMARY

I am a Full Stack Web Developer still enrolled in a 24 week coding boot camp to learn the MERN stack. I have always loved learning and I pick things up very quickly, so adding developer skills is fun. I look forward to each new project to build or problem to solve. I effectively combine creativity and problem solving to develop user-friendly, mobile-first applications. I am also detail oriented, so I can focus on a whole application from the big features down to the smallest bugs regardless of the complexity of the project.
